

Heritage Park in Wdzydze Kiszewskie - in the heart of the Kashubian land

The idea of the heritage museum was born in the early twentieth century, when Isidore and Theodore Gulgowscy created public exhibition in the eighteenth-century cottage. Currently in the museum you can see more than 40 monuments of folk architecture from the period between the seventeenth and twentieth century: farms, cottages, mills, a church, a smithy, an inn and many others... Tourists also attracts museum picturesque location: by the lake, in the Kashubian Landscape Park.

The interiors of some objects enrich the interesting thematic exhibitions, devoted to e.g. Secret Military Organization 'Gryf Pomorski' – in Pomeranian region's largest underground organization during World War II. In the restaurant, located in the museum's area, you should try regional cuisine that despite the simplicity satisfy even the most sophisticated expectations.
